

Parents should have the ability to control what their children watch.

But at the same time, as a adult I should be able to watch anything I want.